June 2006 News

Look for us at:

SHS is holding their open house on June 9 and 10, we will be helping out there. (We will not be selling at the Open House as we did last year but will revise our store hours that weekend for folks who want to drop in at our store (about 30 minutes from the S Helper warehouse) before or after going to the open house. Directions from S Helper will be available at the Open House.

Hoquat store hours will be: Friday 5:45-9:30PM and Saturday 9:00AM-Noon.

We expect to be displaying at the NASG convention in Michigan this August.

Bad news:

Price increases:

SHS has raised the price on their wood reefers to $45.95 and the PS-2 3 bay hoppers.

Look for other prices to rise in the near future.

The new reefer releases are now available, at the new prices, we will hold the price at the old $42.95 price on all older reefers thru the end of May.

Price of our exclusive run Erie and C&NW reefers will stay at $42.95

The new PS-2 three bays are also now available at the new prices, but we will hold the prices on the older three bay hoppers at the old $39.95 price thru the end of May also

Lehigh Valley Models: A complete list of the new prices is on the next page. LVM raised prices a couple of months ago, but just notified us this month. We will keep the old prices as they appear in our 2006 catalog through June 30. Not all prices have changed a few of the structure kits and most of the freight car kits are still the same, but all the kits are listed.

Other News:

Des Plaines Hobbies has announced the purchase of the Pacific Rail Shops kit line. We not 100% sure what Des Plaines will be doing with the line at this time. At present we still have about 50-60 PRS sitting on the shelves here.
